

MINDFUL SEEING MAZE

Our five senses help us to interpret the world around us and make meaning of our experiences. By focusing our attention on something specific, for example something we are looking at or listening to, we can help strengthen the prefrontal cortex (PFC) in our brain and be more aware of the world around us. Focus your attention on your mindful seeing to try and find your way out of this maze.

